INSTRUCTIONS

Attach to this form a detailed description of your proposed project. This proposal should include: (i) the problem to be addressed and the objectives of the proposed work; (ii) anticipated results; (iii) descriptions of the general approach and experimental methods and procedures to be used; (iv) details of the budget itemizing how much money you need and exactly how you intend to use it; and (v) a short letter from the faculty advisor which endorses the project.

This project description should be no more than 1500 words. Please note that while the proposal review committee consists of faculty members at Washington University, they most likely are not experts in the particular area addressed by your proposal. Thus, the proposal should be prepared at a level suitable for an audience with a strong general science background but no detailed expertise in your specific area of investigation.

Submit the completed application form, project description, and letter of endorsement no later than December 1, 2004. You may drop off or mail hard copy of the form to
